The report was presented by the Principal at CWC. The report was briefly summarised. The Committee’s attention was drawn to the action identified which had been taken in response to the areas of improvement identified through the self-assessment process for academic year 2016-17.

The Chair noted that the overall achievement in Maths remained static, achievement rates in Maths Functional Skills also remained challenging at 52.1%.

The Committee probed the figures provided and discussed the lack of high grades in Maths and the quality of observed teaching sessions. Governors noted that attendance in English and Maths sessions was inadequate.

Governors were informed that a partnership had been formed with West Suffolk College to share best practice and an English and Maths strategy was being developed with learning zones.

The Interim Principal at CNWL reported that GCSE high grade achievement was still developmental. Governors noted that rates for Computing and Health/Care vocational areas were below the National Average.

Attendance for English and Maths was still challenging and inadequate. Discussion followed on how the provision was delivered. Governors were informed that additional staff training and support was still required to further improve the quality of teaching in vocational areas.

Governors noted that in vocational lessons, significant achievement gaps still existed in the achievements. The Committee discussed the performance of male learners in Construction and Learning, noting that there were also low pass rates in Functional Skills English at levels 1 and 2. The Committee discussed the impact of attendance and noted that attendance was also an area of challenge for exams.

The Interim Principal at CNWL informed the Committee that there was clear evidence of good Maths teaching but outcomes for English examinations were not expected to meet targets. Governors noted that attendance of students was improving and it was anticipated that levels of funding would be achieved.

Governors debated the differences and between achievements in Maths and English and were informed that this could in part be due to delivery of the provision.

b) 16-18 Study Programmes

The Principal at CWC presented an update on the 16-18 Study Programmes. The Committee were reminded that the provision at CWC had been self-assessed as a Grade 3 (requires improvement) and that at CNWL it had been self-assessed as a Grade 4 (inadequate).

Governors were informed that the predicted achievement rates demonstrated improvement in both Colleges supported by better retention at this point in the year.

It was noted that English and Maths improvement strategies were covered later in the agenda. The Committee were informed that work experience was on track to meet targets by the end of the year.

Governors requested clarification of what proportion of staff were hourly paid lecturers and the potential impact on student retention arising from this situation.

The Committee were informed that significant work had taken place in both Colleges to focus on poorly performing provision with actions planned to achieve improvements in year.

  - support to course teams associated with under achieving provision
  - support to teams to fully integrate English and Mathematics provision into study programmes
• The Committee were informed that the strategies to improve teaching had been well received by staff who were working to action plans. It was noted that 10 Beacon teachers had been appointed to support underperforming areas and to provide CPD master classes.
• Governors asked how they could monitor the impact of these strategies where they were considered to be working well? Discussion followed on the indicators of successful and good teaching and the link to improved achievement rates.
• The Governors sought assurance on the impact of these changes and were informed that there had been significant impact on reducing non-attendance levels at classes and increasing attendance at GCSE English and Maths examinations.
• In response to a Governor query the Interim Principal of CNWL reported that the joint Curriculum plan was examining the quality of provision to assess its impact on the plan and both Colleges were collaborating to ensure the Curriculum plan met College expectations.
